

Biography

Steve Ceccato has a BA in Art Practice from UC Davis and an elementary and secondary teaching credential in the arts. He has shown his works in galleries, at the Crocker-Kingsley and at the State Fair. He taught elementary school in Vacaville for 32 years, bringing art to students' curriculum. Steve has also participated in the Sierra Northern Arts Project and Vacaville's PFAC, both groups were comprised of art teachers from elementary and high school that guided teachers to share with students the power of creativity. He has provided private art lessons and encourages those with a fear of art to go beyond their blocks to enjoy self-expression. He has done many commissions for individuals throughout his career and favors the one-to-one communication and the uniqueness that a single piece can bring to a patron.

He has been an artist all of his life. He works with a variety of styles and mediums. Vibrant color is utilized in many of his pieces. Titles are important to communicate humor, plays on words, and the internal processes that bring growth. The common theme in his work is not to only embrace what it is to be Human, but to focus on the Inner Divine in each of us.

Steve has been married for 44 years. He has two grown children and three grandchildren. He is retired, living in Davis, and also enjoys camping, gardening, and studying the Enneagram.
